Summary of Information

SG1A

Target vessel, identified as the [] seems to be a broad beamed motor sailer, with a rounded stern, blunt, rounded bow, wood construction, and wood grained in color with green trim and a white-topped cabin roof. The cabin is aft, and there appear to be at least two masts and a short, blunt bowsprit. A possible callsign associated with the vessel is something like "Mike India X-Ray 7 Oscar." The vessel intends to effect a transfer of contraband near dawn on 25 April 1990 at a location in the vicinity of 13°30N/74°50W. From this point, whatever vessel is carrying the contraband will proceed north between Jamaica and Haiti, around the eastern corner of Cuba, through the Bahamas, to the Miami area in Florida.
